McManigal to Ge to Indianapella.

Just when McManigal will legve here has not been determined, but he will be in Indianapolis by December 22, the foderal grand jury being scheduled to begin its probe there on December 14.
Oscar Lawler, the government's special prosecutor, may go to Indiana, too, to assist in the handling of the case. The grand jury investigation will be concluded here this week. The investigation here is aimed at less than five people, while the Indianapolis Inquiry is expected to bring into the limelight at feast a dozen persons. Indianapolis therefore will be the center of the givernment's inquiry.

therefore will be the center of the givernment's inquiry.

These facts were learned by the Astrocated Press after a canvass of various people who have had much to do with the McNamara case here, and who will continue to work on it. Partial confirmation came from McManigal himself at the county jail vosterday, when he said:

"Til tell any grand jury anywhere everything I know. I have nothing to conceal, and I will consider it my duty to give the authorities all information in my possession."

McManigal will be accompanied when he leaves here by Malcolm McLaren, the Burns detentive who arrested him in Detroit last April, and who has been with him constantiv ever since, spending whole days with him at a time. The two men have become good friends and It is to McLaren that McManigal has given day by day his real confession.

McNamaras In San Quentin.

San Quentin, Cal. Dec. 11.—The McNamara brothers on Sunday entered.

San Quentin penitentiary, where James B. is condemned to spend the remainder of his life for his confessed crime of murder, and John J. Secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Shructural Fron Workers, is sentanced to 15 years' imprisonment for dynamiting.

to 15 years' imprisonment for dynamiting.
Whirled from Los Angeles on a fast train, the men were taken from it at anurise, put on a little river steamer and landed two hours and a half later at San Quentin prison wharf, on the shores of San Pablo by. The shackles which bound them togather on the boat brin were slipped off and they tolled up the prison hill beside sheriff William A. Hammel, of Los Angeles county, walking as free men. In five minutes James R. McNamara had become convict 25,315 and John J. McNamara was No. 25,315.

They were measured for fail clothing, photographed in two poses, given a carbolic tinctured bath, put into stripes, shaved and cropped, and rephotographed within an hour, and turned over to John Murray, Heutenant of the yard, who took them to cell 18 in a stone tier looking out over the prison's "upper yard," a great flower garden. Soon after the men entered the jail the prison band began to play and continued until 1 p. m. At 2 coloca Sunday dinner was served. The McNamaras were furnished with a prison-made dinner card, done in three colors and marked "San Quentin grill." The prisoners who devised it had taken occasion to point out the attractions of the place. "Never before since the opening in 1852 has the San Quentin occasion to point out the attractions of the place. "Never before since the opening in 1852 has the San Quentin grill enjoyed a better reputation or greater patronage than under the present management," wrote the wag in atripes. "There are at present over 1940 regular boarders taking their meals at the grill."

The brothers passed the rest of the day in their selis. Today they will begin work in the jute mill, warden Hoyle said, but James R., on advice of sheriff Hammel, will be examined for tuberculosis and if he shows symptoms of it will be given other work.
